

Photos of 2005 Gulf Coast Disaster Debris Management Refrigerator Photos

Timothy G Townsend, PhD, PE
Professor of Environmental Engineering Sciences
Engineering School of Sustainable Infrastructure and Environment
<http://townsend.essie.ufl.edu>

A common observation:
Taped-up refrigerators
and freezers

St. Peter

SPEED LIMIT
25

ART ACCENT

FLEA MKT ↑

OPEN
7 DAYS

FLEA MKT

CONDOR
Voo Doo
TODAY
HERE
NOW
5

TOP
MOB
1
2
3
4
5
↓

BUSH'S WORLD

As you don't Like it...
FIGHT
THE FUNK*
Indigo

Handwritten scribbles and symbols, including a large 'X' and a circle with scribbles.

Inside of house.

Homes and belongings damaged by New Orleans flood waters

Commercial refrigeration unit

Contents of commercial refrigeration unit

Debris cleanup:
Refrigerator in French Quarter

Debris cleanup:
Refrigerator in
French Quarter

Refrigerators at disposal and staging areas are removed where possible

Refrigerators at disposal and staging areas are removed where possible

Refrigerators at disposal and staging areas are removed where possible

White goods include refrigerators and other appliances

Unloading refrigerators

Staging area for refrigerators

Santitas
Salsa

SAFE FAIR
CornDogs CLASSIC

HEAT 'N' SERVE
HEAT 'N' SERVE

Mexican Rice

Removing refrigerants

Removing refrigerants

Removing spoiled food

Removing spoiled food

Spoiled food hauled to appropriate landfill

Cleaning and disinfection area

After disinfection, refrigerators are crushed

After disinfection, refrigerators are crushed

Crushed refrigerators will be shipped to a scrap metal processor to recycle the steel and other metals

Photos of 2005 Gulf Coast Disaster Debris Management Refrigerator Photos

Timothy G Townsend, PhD, PE
Professor of Environmental Engineering Sciences
Engineering School of Sustainable Infrastructure and Environment
<http://townsend.essie.ufl.edu>